Next Week

We will be starting some work on 'shape' in maths. We'll also be doing work on biographies and we'll do some role-play work linked to David Beckham's biography. In PE, we are going to start developing our dance skills further by moving like animals to South-American music.

Reminders

£1 towards snacks and food technology items per week -
thank you.

As explained in reviews, you should be thinking about visiting the local high school and then letting them know that you want a place. Please get in contact if you need support.

Thanks to all who have sent in reply slips for the pantomime and the communication app - if you haven't sent these in,
please would you send them as soon as possible?

And finally...

Thanks to Aimee for telling us what she wanted to say in this week's news.

Well done to Fin for getting 'Star of the Week' - what fantastic behaviour
and hard work.
